Callahan, Duffy and Silvestro Also Elected

Pat Seery Elected S.G.A. President

On March 27 and 28 the Student Government Association Elections were held for the 1972-73 school year.

The student tournout was small with only 39% of the students voting.

The presidency of the Student Government was won by junior Patrick Seery, this year's treasurer of Student Government Association, over Tom Brown. William Callahan was elected Vice-President, Colleen Duffy was elected tresurer, and Rita Silvestro was unopposed for secretary.

In the senior class, Bernadette Coyne was elected president; Bill Tully was elected vice-president, Joanne Briarton-secretary, and Linda Diana-tresurery.

In the junior class, Charles Ahern was elected president, with Lisa Stryker vice-president; and James Mulligan tresurer. The secretary will be appointed.

In the sophomore class, Joan Redpath was elected president, with Peggy Russell vice-president, Betty Romano secretary and Mary Ann Stevens tresurer.

For campus court judges Richard Hopkins, and Bob Shea, were elected from the senior class, with Roseanne Sone as the alternative.

Junior class judges are Charles Ahern and Tim Gleason, the alternate is Matt McConnell.

Sophomore class judges are Denise Donlin and Jim Loracono, with Claudia Waldrep elected as alternate.

In the senate, Ray Hughes was elected senior senator. Tim Gleason was elected junior senator, and Kevin Callahan received the nod as sophomore male senator. Female senators are Pat Spinella, senior; and Kate O'Connor as sophomore senator.

The Case of Colleen Murphy

"This Court is now in session to hear the case of Colleen Murphy."

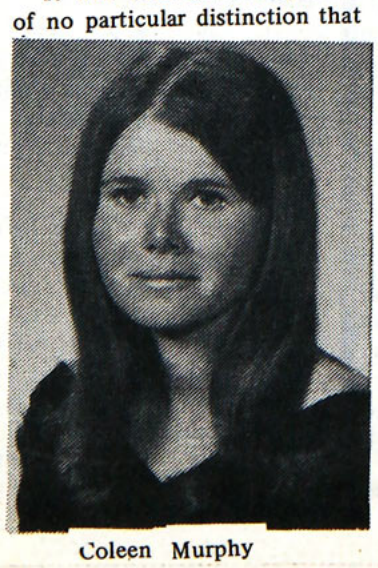
"Colleen, you have been charged with making a significant contribution to the spirit of Saint Leo College. It is reported that you are guilty of repeated attempts to fulfill yourself as a person and to improve the College as an intellectual and social institution."

Colleen Patricia Murphy was borned and raised in Cicero, Illinois, as the fourth of six children bestowed to Mr. and Mrs. James E. Murphy.

Colleen attended the Immaculate Heart of Mary High School in Westchester, Illinois, where she distinguished herself, as she puts it, "as an average student." Although she worked hard on certain social committees, Colleen never held class office, nor did she excell beyond the status of a "C" student. In fact, one of the only executive capacities which she held was as the leader of a group of trouble makers known by the good Sisters as the "Goofy Group". It seems that this group was infamous for its mischievous activities about the High School.

After graduation from high school, this frolicsome elf spent a year working full time at several jobs, while taking token credit at Morton Junior College near her home.

It was with this background of no particular distinction that Colleen came to Saint Leo College. It was Colleen's belief that St. Leo would provide her with the opportunity and facilities to help her buckle down and start to develop herself in more meaningful ways. To the credit of Colleen and to St. Leo and its philosophy of education, Colleen started to blossom.



Coleen Murphy

In her sophomore year, Colleen was named "Outstanding Female Floor Director" for her excellent work in the Priory and became deeply involved in the Association of Women Students.

During her junior year, Colleen served at President of the A.W.S., became actively involved as a member of the Senate, served as floor director in Marion Hall, and was a member of the Publications Board and the Executive Board of the Student Government Association. It was during this year that Colleen represented the College at the Independent

Roseanne Stone's Comments:

"We are looking forward next year to increasing the fulfillment of women's social, academic and intellectual needs on campus and working within the college community. (women,s week; fashion shows; service committees for projects).

"We will work for increased financial support from the College for Association of Women Students. The Association of Women Students cannot function without continued support from the administration and women students."

Roseanne also noted the continued improvement in the organization from its founding three years ago.

Roseanne commented on the Association of Women Students court which she has served on as a judge prior to being elected president, "Within the last year the court has gained a lot of respect and responsibility on the part of the women students in taking over their own disciplinary problems.

EDITORIAL

Frank Kiley Associate Editor

Tonight the Student Government Association is holding an awards banquet to honor many of those individuals who work selflessly for the betterment of Saint Leo College.

At this time, speaking for "The Lion", I would like to join with S.G.A. in expressing sincere admiration for all such hard working friends of the College.

Of course, not everyone who has put forth a significant effort can be recognized on such occasions, and for this reason I would also like to signify my regard for all our "unknown soldiers".

* * * * *

As students are educated not only be teachers and books, but also by their fellow students, doesn't it seem odd that certain schools do not accommodate a valedictory address during commencement?

* * * * *

I extend my congratulations to all the newly elected officers of student organizations.

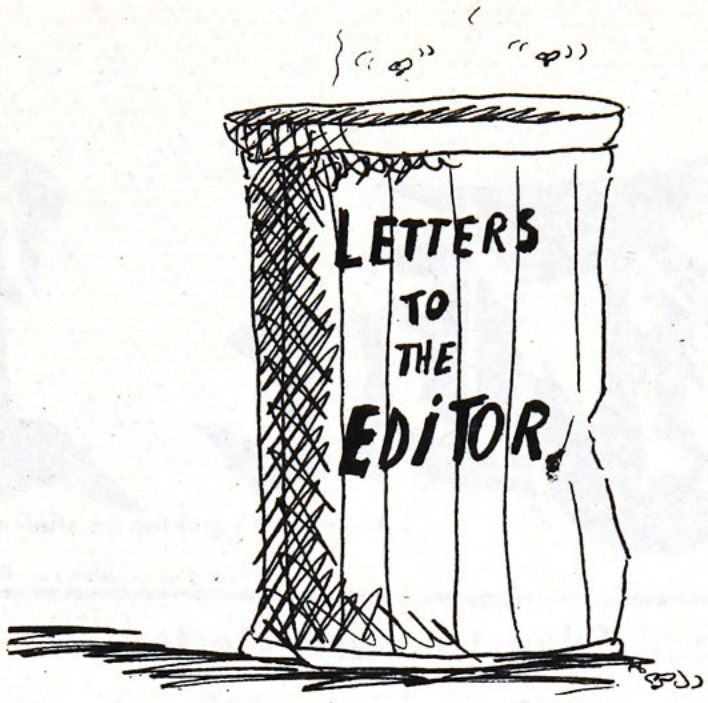
Some Parents Agree



The Letters To The Editor are expressions of student opinions and are not altered in any way, shape or form.

Dear Mr. Biondi,

As parents of a freshman student, my husband and I attended and thoroughly enjoyed parents', weekend. We would like to use The Lion as a means to express our appreciation to those responsible for its success.

We particularly enjoyed the courtesy and friendliness of the fraternity and sorority members who served the dinners.

A special note of thanks to Mr. Allen Powers, your public relations man, who even had the foresight to see that we had two meals in the cafeteria, enabling us, as parents, to fully realize how bad it truly is. The turkey dinner was bad, but the concrete meat loaf was certainly the work of highway construction engineers. Our sympathy to the students of Saint Leo. We couldn't and didn.t eat it either.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Oscar Spradley

Visitors Opinion

Mr. Webster defines "friendly" as a term meaning, "supporting, helping, amicable." I guess these adjectives say it all when it comes to this visitors impression of Saint Leo College.

It would take more than one story to tell of all the pleasant things that I've experienced in my brief stay here, the only unpleasant moment I suppose I'll have is when I leave.

I'm just one of the many people who come to Florida each year to get away from school, parents, and life in general. I have a couple of friends from my hometown who go to school here. They offered to put me up along with a couple of, (now you better sit down Doc Southard), girls I go to school with. Well as I said before, I had a couple of friends here, now I have many. These people shared everything with me, their food, their rooms and their dope.

Now just like any school there's bound to be a few shitheads stagnating about. Well, I didn't meet you guys, maybe next time. The only people I met were beautiful in every way.

You probably notice that I didn't use any names. Actually that's kind of trivial because these people know who they are, besides I don't want to get anyone screwed by the administration. Well that's all I've got to say.

Have a Happy
4th of July
J.P.

Misshandled?

Dear Editor:

I have never found a good reason to write you until now. I have, all year, read the letters written by my friends, all of which you have shot down as being inane, sarcastic, and unsubstantiated. If the paper is beyond criticism, why did Doctor Southard have to write a letter of apology to parents about the paper? I have not always agreed with everything that they have written, but I do agree with most of it.

According to your reply in the last issue to a student's letter, (and I am sure by now you know who I mean), you called him ignorant and flatly refused to print any more of his letters. This violates your own notice, which I have enclosed in case you have never read it, and I quote, "All students are entitled to utilize it, "(The Lion)," provided that comment made is of general interest, and presented in an intelligent and literary style".

To my knowledge, all of his letters have fulfilled these requirements. There are many students on campus who feel that the newspaper needs revision, so his comments made are of general interest, and they are organized intelligently, and the grammer seems alright.

That notice also states that you or your paper are not in any way responsible for what someone else says. So quit worrying and print the letters that you receive. I have no desire to join your paper staff, so don't even ask. Notice that I have not criticized the paper, only your handling of a certain part.

Oh, and to quote an already well used expression, "If you feel I have treated you unfairly, write a letter to your father".

Peter A. Hunter

Dear Editor,

I though your letter in the last issue concerning the person of Mr. Finn was notoriously unmerciful.

It is my firm belief that the world would be much more humane if there were more Mickey Finns around.

Yours Truly,
A. Hitler

Colleges and Universities of Florida Convention and on television as a guest on "Perspective". In recognition for her many outstanding contributions to the College Community during her junior year, Colleen was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities", received the "Hart Scholarship" for academic excellence, and was recognized at the Award Banquet of S.G.A. as the "Outstanding Junior Female of the College".

Colleen continued to blossom her senior year. Elected to the Campus Court by the general student body, she was elected subsequently by the judges of the Court to the position of President of the Campus Court. In this capacity Colleen has worked long hours to provide the community with an effective and equitable judicial institution. This position has not been an easy one for as Colleen has said, "It is difficult to sit in judgement of one's peers." But although the task was tough, this fighter was ready for it.

In addition to her many duties as President of the Court, Miss Murphy has found time to serve as Head resident in the Priory, to remain active in the Student Senate, and to intern this semester at Pasco Elementary School. For her many outstanding activities during her senior year, Colleen was elected to "Who's Who" for the second time, and the chances are good that adequate recognition will be accorded her at the Award Banquet tonight.

If the above credentials are not enough, it should be pointed out that Colleen has proved also to be an "academic Horatio Alger", as this descendant from the "Land of Saints and Scholars" is expected to be graduated "Magna Cum Laude".

After graduation the amiable Miss Murphy expects to attend graduate school at either the University of South Florida or Southern Illinois University. Her ambition is to obtain a master's degree in elementary education with a concentration in reading.

Discussing her philosophy of life, Colleen expressed the view that, "Each individual should try to fulfill his potentials. If a person lives up to his ability, he will lead a rewarding and meaningful life."

Surely here is a person who tries to live by her philosophy, and this court and no alternative but to find the defendant guilty as charged.

Dear Editor,

It is strange that now that elections are over many persons that were running around patting you on the back and shaking your hands are not not quite so friendly. Seeing as you did not have to compromise your integrity to win, perhaps it was a victory in disguise. Congratulations!!!

Jim Knight

Dear Jim,

I would like to express to you my consolation for your disappointing loss at the polls.

It is my belief that a person of your dedication, perserverance, and idealism would have done a good job in tackling the difficult problems confronting a student leader.

Well, don't feel badly. It is part of the responsibility of a sensitive and honest person to realize that many people are not ready for him.

Sincerely,
Peter Bruce

Good Guys Finish Last

Dear Editor:

Today's Daily Say-So carried an announcement for students in Dr. Janner's Principles of Finance Class that a test scheduled for today was cancelled. Dr. Janner did not authorize this announcement...- Mrs. Whitman received it yesterday under her door and doesn't know the source. She presumed that it was a legitimate notice.

As a result, thirty some students who prepared for the test today were informed that the test would be postponed until next Monday. With vacation starting Thursday, this postponement was a considerable inconvenience to students forced to change their travel plans.

The greatest inconvenience, however, was to Dr. Janner – certainly one of the outstanding professors in the Business Department.

All I can say is that I hope that the individuals who would resort to these tactics to force postponement of the test benefited somehow from it.

Organizational News

A.W.S.

The Association of Women Students has become stronger than it was formerly and this is due mainly to the leadership of the women students and their involvement in all phases of college life.

Ms. Fernandez has just returned from the International Association of Women Students Convention in Chicago. The theme of the convention was "Women and Men - Partners in Humanity."

Ms. Fernandez had these comments on the convention: "I think that basically it focused on the changing roles of women in society and that ultimate choices of alternatives must be made by each individual."

"I think that International Association Of Women Students is encouraging women to fulfill their potential in all areas of life: intellectual, cultural, social, political, and vocational."

"I believe that the Association of Women Students will be providing more programs and resources to help the women students make decisions regarding the expansion of vocational and employment opportunities, self-development, community participation and family life."

Senior Class News

There will be a Senior Class meeting this Sunday night at 8:00 in Selby Auditorium. For important information on "Senior Week" and graduation, all seniors should plan to attend this meeting.

Any senior interested in going on the free class cruise during "Senior Week" on the "Tom Sawyer" should definitely attend the class meeting this Sunday. There are a limited number of people who will be able to enjoy this affair, hence it will be first come first served.

The "Class of '72" hopes that everyone had a happy and healthy Easter vacation, especially those students who were able to take advantage of the trip to Freeport sponsored by the Senior Class.

Read "The Lion" to keep posted on the "Senior Class News" and all the news of the College Community, and get involved in making it in the future.
